TUESDAYS 12:10-12:30 p.m.	WEDNESDAYS 12:10-12:30 p.m.
	August 30 CSP's Virtual and Physical Libraries: Learn how to effectively and efficiently navigate and use CSP's library web pages. Maximize the extensive holdings available for you through the physical and virtual libraries. Explore the special features of CLICnet (CSP's shared catalog).
September 12 EBSCOhost Databases: Academic Search Premier: Academic Search Premier is one of five EBSCO academic and business databases. Review the unique features of these extensive databases that cover most areas of academic study. Customize searching by learning how to set up alerts and create web pages for individual and class research.	September 13 OpenMind: Organize and present ideas with this next generation mind-mapping tool. Learn about Open Mind's many features. Use mind maps, timelines, outlines, bullet points, charts, graphs, etc. for presentations, discussion, project management, and exploration of topics.
September 19 MN Datanet/U.S. Census: Find relevant and factual information based on state and federal findings.	September 27 eFolios: Set up an electronic portfolio for individual and group use. This tool, free to every MN citizen, can be used for personal and professional purposes. It also provides faculty and students a place to organize, reflect upon, and showcase their academic achievements.
October 3 ATLA/Luther's Works: Navigate the 19th century to present citations and full-text religious articles in ATLA. Also peruse the electronic version of the 55 volume set of Luther's Works which is available at the computer terminal across from the Reference desk.	Date/Time TBD Hill Source: Explore the online business information center available through a partnership with the James J. Hill Reference Library, offering searchable web resources and citations.
October 24 ERIC: Review the updated ERIC database that searches for citations of journal and non-journal education literature as well as full-text articles and ERIC digests.	October 25 PBS Database and Sound Learning website from MPR: Tap into the audio/visual resources, instructional and supplementary materials available in a variety of formats.
