CSP Gmail

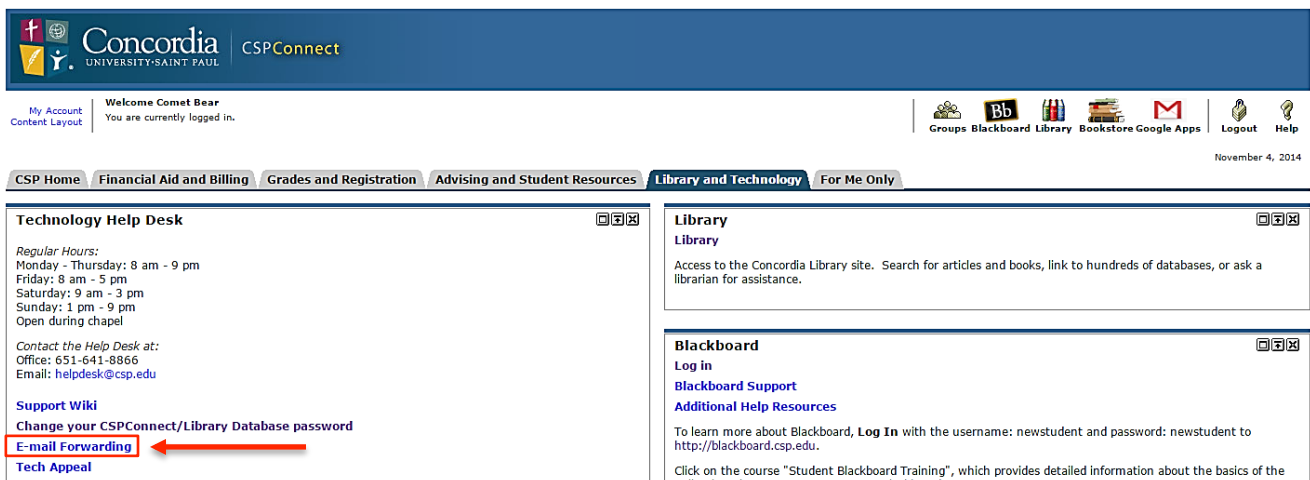

- 1) Concordia uses Gmail (Google Apps) for its student email system.

The screenshot shows the CSPConnect account page. At the top right, there is a navigation bar with icons for Groups, Blackboard, Library, Bookstore, Google Apps, Logout, and Help. The Google Apps icon is highlighted with a red box and a red arrow pointing to it. Below the navigation bar, there are several content blocks: University Announcements, Personal Announcements, Concordia News, and University Quicklinks. The date "November 4, 2014" is visible in the bottom right corner.

- 2) For student privacy reasons, we send all official university communication, to your Concordia student account. You are responsible for reading that information.
- 3) You may choose to forward your CSP email to another email account.
- 4) Directions for this are available under the Library and Technology tab in your CSPConnect account.

The screenshot shows the CSPConnect account page with the "Library and Technology" tab selected. The "E-mail Forwarding" link is highlighted with a red box and a red arrow pointing to it. The page content includes sections for Technology Help Desk, Library, and Blackboard. The date "November 4, 2014" is visible in the bottom right corner.
